

ELECTRA

Jamie Stern's Electra is a beautiful, sophisticated full grain leather featuring unparalleled aesthetic and performance characteristics. Its key features include an elegant sheen and richness of color that elevate any furniture piece. Produced on large European hides that average 55 square feet, Electra is finished with a highly durable semi-aniline topcoat that protects the leather from scratching, staining and fading in sunlight. This article represents the perfect leather for any project where longevity is as desired as timeless beauty. As a full grain, semi-aniline product, this leather is intended to breathe, age and soften over time while still maintaining its original appearance.
